Be different and feel good with new CXperience concept from Citroen

CITROËN have revealed one month ahead of the Paris Motor Show, its Citroën CXperience Concept which, they say, embodies the brand's "Be Different, FeelGood" promise in the large hatchback segment. The manufacturer states that with its distinctive body style, the sleek new concept illustrates the benefits of the Citroën Advanced Comfort® programme. Citroën will showcase a world first next month at the 2016 Paris Motor Show with CXperience Concept which brings a fresh new approach to the hatchback segment. The exceptional new body style is a step forward that marks a new offensive in brand strategy.

This innovative plug-in hybrid vehicle is immediately recognisable with its distinctive style and cleverly designed rear-hinged doors. The bold lines express power, while the generous curves express the car's own stylistic language. Inspired by the high-tech world, the new front end, grille and updated signature headlights, create a unique style. The rear end also makes a statement with strongly marked wings and a concave rear window with a fin for improved aerodynamics. To contrast the pearlescent sea green exterior colour the premium materials inside the car are a citrus yellow shade to create a fresh and assured ambience. The seats are upholstered in a padded-effect yellow mesh fabric and the backrests feature an elegant shade of walnut wood. In line with the brand's know-how and heritage, this latest creation features the hallmark of Citroën vehicles. CXperience Concept is the latest demonstration of the Citroën Advanced Comfort® programme, designed for the comfort and well-being of all passengers. Supporting the styling and technological development of new brand models, the programme reflects changing customer expectations and is considered at every stage in the design process. An easy to use infotainment system allows passengers to control a range of functions. A smartphone and mobile tablet can also be used to activate a range of controls including starting the car and sharing media files with other passengers. CXperience Concept also features the Connected CAM Citroën™ premiered as a world first on Citroën's New C3. All technology will be available for testing at the Paris Motor Show. With its unique, distinctive body lines, the CXperience Concept car expresses a new take on executive hatchbacks, a territory that is close to the brand and its history. It is an aerodynamic concept car whose design reflects the emphasis placed on every detail. Designed by Citroën Styling, CXperience Concept expresses the brand's new aesthetic codes. An innovative vehicle, it is inspired by the high-tech world on the outside, and by furnishings and travel on the inside. The innovative hatchback measures 4.85m long and 2m wide. The very low roof (1.37m tall) and short overhangs (3m wheelbase), contributes to the CXperience Concept car's flowing lines. The pearlescent sea green "Mizuiro" bodywork is modern and relaxed, and sits on 5-spoke 22-inch wheels. Citroën report that other characteristic styling features contributing to the unique personality of the CXperience Concept car are the rear-hinged autoclave doors rising to the top of the roof and opening to a 90°perpendicular angle (in line with the wheels), making it easy to get in. The doors provide an excellent view of the spacious and comfortable cabin.
